

CHESS

CHESS SPARK

Playing chess exercises both sides of the brain. It challenges the brain to exercise logic, to develop pattern-recognition, to make critical decisions both visually and analytically; it also enhances your memory!

Chess can be enjoyed by anyone of any age; an active brain is a healthy brain!"

An eight weeks program aims to help your child develop a progressive understanding of how chess is played with the necessary skills required to enjoy the game.

Come join us for Chess classes by Chess Spark for fun and engaging Chess classes whereby the end of the program, participants will be able to walk away with the basic knowledge of Chess and be able to advance to the next level!

About the instructor:

Andre is an MOE certified chess trainer with years of experience teaching chess to kids and is adept at online chess training as well. He has taught at international schools to children of all ages. He is active in the local Singapore chess scene and is one of the organizers of the Singapore Social Chess Meet-up. Aside from teaching chess, he is a doctor and medical researcher.
